

TECHNOLOGY FOR THE REST OF US

Technology for the Rest of Us . . .

As we approach the end of the year and we celebrate the holiday season we are very excited as a direct result of continued positive response to the products, events and services we have been providing. We are particularly proud of the outcome of our Thanksgiving Day "Feed Our Friends" event. We were able to serve over sixty plates of food and we delivered over forty plates of food to shut in seniors at our local seniors center. For us this was such a blessing, to be able to share this way makes all the hard work and sacrifice worth while. This year has been full of significant challenges, however, we continue to see challenges as opportunities in work cloths. We have also made changes in the day to day operations and are preparing to roll out a number of new projects. As we work to prepare for the new year we are also working to upgrade our resources and add products and services and bring new and exciting events to the center. We continue to reach out to our community to make the resources built into the center available to all. Our schedule of classes in the Training Suite will begin again in January 07 and we continue to provide internet to our public access space, as it continues to be used everyday by members and people that just walk in and sign up. We also continue to upgrade our servers and enhance our technology across the board. We are looking forward to a very exciting calendar of events next year with anticipation. We will be implementing our CORE Essentials series once again, which include five core elements that are all key components in the growth and development of families and communities. We have also established working relationships with a number of organizations that are working to help build our community. We are making good on our commitment to bring to our community access to corporate styled technology resources. For us technology is the key to this transformed method of doing business and we look forward to helping bring this technology forward. In the coming year we will be focusing on "Professional Social Networking" and "Integrated Living Journal" which are both the results of fully utilizing the technology that we have made available at the center. Our goal over the next few months is to attract as many people as we can to come in and see what we have accomplished. We have added a number of premium services to our memberships and look forward to sharing our resources with everyone.

"Getting to Know You Drive" has been extended through the end of the year. The Adventure has already begun . . . Join us as the Adventure Continues...

Welcome to A New Month

A Message From Our Founder

This holiday season is very special for me and I am so grateful for the things I do have and I have learned to not worry about the things I do not have. More importantly I have come to realize that I personally have been blessed to have made it through another year. I have received such love and support from family and friends that I can not fully express my gratitude. All I can do is try to share that love with others. I believe that Love is a gift from God, and I honor that gift by giving it to others. This year is the end of an era in my personal life and the beginning of a wonderful new life and the TRC is a big part of that new life. As I continue to recover from my medical issues I hope to be back full time by the first of the year and as it happens we have a broad range of events, projects, products and services to offer going into the new year. I would also like to once again thank TRC members both individuals and companies as well as everyone in the commu-

Community Forum

Wednesday December 27, 2006

We are having a year end celebration with light refreshments and an over view of this years election and its impact on our community. We will also be discussing the future Forums for next year and the steps we must take to improve our Forums. We also hope to share with the community our plans for future development at the center as well.

ity that have been praying for me and sending me their best wishes. In the coming year we will be continuing to present lectures, workshops and special events that we hope will be a benefit to the members of our community. Once again I would like to offer a personal invitation to everyone in our community to come and take a tour of our facilities. I am proud of the center and encourage everyone to come in and take advantage of the resources available at the TRC. We are beginning to build up our Digital Distribution Network and our Data Center. The Training Suite is starting to grow and develop as people are starting to know that we are here. I am so proud and humbled by the positive feedback that we have been getting from people that have come in and taken our tour. The Technology Resource Center offers help in bridging that "Digital Divide". As a part of our mission we are working to capture our broad history, as knowing who we are is vital to our attempt to chart a future. We are working to provide a place to collect and store information and make it available via our digital interfaces. The TRC is ready to provide access to cutting edge technology, with the training and support to make it practical to the average individual and small business owner. I continue to feel blessed and honored to have been tasked to build the center. I am proud of the work that has been done and now pledge myself to continue to improve on the TRC into the new year. I am committed to using the resources of the center to help people in our community improve the quality of their lives. I continue to be blessed in a mighty way.

November and December 2006 are both a part of our "Holiday Season" of programs. We are working to provide a meaningful holiday experience for people in our community that are struggling to find their place in our society. We have turned our resources toward helping our member organizations realize their full potential. We are developing a number of new projects that will help us reach our goals. Thanks to the technology that has been rolled out, our new web presence is now a source of information about the center and we will build on this site. Our BLOG allows anyone to post topics and inspire the input of ideas, questioning of the status quo and an opportunity to share with each other. We are bringing organizations together to help each other grow using the services that they each provide with the resources at the center as the common thread. We continue our focus on local Non-Profit Organizations and community based groups as we help them take full advantage of technology. Our core initiatives targeted to help in three key areas to reach out to corporations to form the basis for our fund raising tool, "One Night Stand" Series.

New Family Members

The TRC is like a warm comfortable home and we invite people to come and become familiar with our products and services, however, we also have a number of new members that have joined the Faith Over Fear family and as such they will have access to the broad range of resources available at the center so that they might be able to deliver services more efficiently, more comprehensive and consistent ways.

We would like to welcome a number of new Organizations to the Faith Over Fear Family of organizations, Pilgrimage Outreach, Inc. which is an eleven year old faith based social service provider. Using the resources of the center this organization will bring its Re-Entry Aftercare services, Youth Development programs, and multi-housing development with wrap around services into Bergen County. In addition we would like to welcome Churches In Co-Operation, Inc. which is also a Faith Based organization that delivers social services as well. These two organizations will be working together with the Faith Over Fear Foundation to provide a broad range of services to our community. We are continuing to present the "Core Essentials Lecture Series" which includes the five key topics that we believe are vital to the health and growth of individuals, families and businesses. The five Core Essentials are Real Property, Financial Services, Education, Health & Wellness and Technology. We have invited professionals from each of these key areas to present workshops and lectures to share information in each of this critical areas. We are also bringing back several popular workshops and seminars such as the "Identity Theft Awareness" workshop this time for businesses, as well as the "Internet Safety for Kids" which provides information for Parents on how to protect your children from the dangers of the Internet. Once again the very popular NJIT Procurement workshop was successful on June 22, 2006 in helping small business owners complete applications to gain access to government contracts. We are working to bring them back in August. We salute and commend the Parent Literacy Project Group and continue to work toward building a strong working relationship as we support their efforts to impact this segment of the population. We have made our resources available to this worthwhile organization. We continue to offer daily tours of the TRC and also encouraged everyone to come in and take advantage of the resources we have available. Our Seventh Community Forum of the series will continue our commitment to building community. We continue to work toward building working relationships with local government to provide access to current up to date information on area activities that can affect us all. We are exploring the potential of the Technology Resource Center to bring people together for new and exciting experiences. It is an honor to be involved with so many new organizations and we are receiving guidance and direction from many of our respected elders and look forward to sharing the blessings of the Here and Now while paying tribute to the past by remembering, to take care of ourselves. Which is why our Monthly Health & Wellness events are vital to our future and we offer "knowledge and information".
